

WIF ANNOUNCES SCREENING SERIES HIGHLIGHTING ICONIC FILMS AND TELEVISION SERIES MADE BY WOMEN OVER THE LAST FIFTY YEARS IN HONOR OF THE ORGANIZATION'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Screening of Norma Rae (1979) will kick off the series and feature a panel discussion between the film's star Sally Field and producers Tamara Asseyev and Alexandra Rose

LOS ANGELES, California; June 20, 2023 – WIF (Women in Film, Los Angeles), the nonprofit organization working to dismantle gender bias in the screen industries, today announced the launch of its Screening Series in honor of the organization's 50th anniversary. Throughout the series, WIF will spotlight a pivotal film or television series per decade made by women to celebrate women and people of underrepresented genders working in front of and behind the camera throughout the last 50 years.

The series will kick off June 29th at Vidiots in Los Angeles with a timely screening of Norma Rae (1979). Following the film, Sally Field and producers Tamara Asseyev and Alexandra Rose will gather for a panel discussion moderated by Lake Bell, WIF Board Member and chair of WIF's 50th Anniversary Committee, to talk about the film and its enduring legacy and impact. Additional films and programming to be announced.

"WIF has been working tirelessly for the last fifty years to increase representation and parity for women in Hollywood. We can think of no greater way to celebrate this milestone anniversary than to shine a light on amazing collaborations between women in our industry over the past five decades," said Kirsten Schaffer, CEO of WIF.

"We're excited to launch this series with the trailblazing Sally Field and Norma Rae, a film that resonates with both the moment of its era and our current times," said Lake Bell.

WIF's 50th Anniversary is presented by Johnnie Walker with support from official partner Max Mara. Both Johnnie Walker, as part of its long-standing commitment to gender equity, and Max Mara, a committed 20-year partner of WIF, have invested significantly in WIF to advance its mission and underwrite its programs to empower women as storytellers.
